

True Achievement

On the mountain pinnacle I stand, staring below at the lovely land.

*The sky above stands so close to your hands
It seems as though you are in heaven
And had attained life-saving salvation*

*You see all peace and solace,
In the arms of the splendid creation
Of the Almighty, so flawless.*

Having reached this far, I question myself

"Is this what you wanted"?

Is this called being successful?

Have you reached your destination?

Did you overcome your fears?

Did you cross over your failures?"

No, I still don't get an answer.

Because you are not this

You are a simple woman,

Who loves Especially Hardwork

And every simple thing in life,

Surrounded by family and friends.

*The actual achievement is;
Being an adorable daughter,*

*A loyal wife,
A caring mother,
A Successful Doctor,
An Outstanding Professor,
And above all a beautiful human being.*

*The road to actual success is still far away.
But I know you have that in you,
To reach your destination
And achieve the true happiness in life.*

*The first step of success is in the mind,
You have first of all believed that
Dreams are not only made in mind,
But can be real as flesh and hide.*

*Dear Professor
They called you crazy,
They said you've lost your mind.
But now it is you who laughs in achievement,
While they cry, having never begun to try.*

*Hardwork begins with a stumble
Greatness begins by being humble*

*Congratulations Honorable Dr. Caroline Hoth.
